

ABSTRACT

This invention relates to compounds, according to Figure 1 and Figure 5, that are selective inhibitors of Matrix Metalloprotease (also known as Matrix Metalloproteinase, MMP), to cosmetic and pharmaceutical compositions containing them, and to their use in the prevention and/or treatment of ailments associated with MMP, including inflammation, wound healing, skin aging, skin tone discoloration, body odor, oral cavity odor, rosacea, acne, and hair growth modulation.